Grand Total 185

3 The following table shows the number of publications in 1890, 1891 & 1892 under the heads of 'Original Works' 'Republication' and 'Translations'

	1890	1891	1892
Original Works	101	114	111
Republications	78	57	63
Translations	14	13	11
	193	184	185

4 The publications designed for the purposes of education were 47 and the non-educational publications were 138

5 Under the heads of Arts, Biography, Politics, and Voyages and Travels there were no publications during the year

6 Drama — Under the head of Drama there were 13 publications, one of which is in Sanskrit and the rest in Kannada The Sanskrit drama is an edition of Bhavabhuti's Uttarāmacharitra with a commentary by Viraraghavacharya This drama is considered to be the best production of Bhavabhuti The plot is taken from the Ramayana and has reference to the latter part of Ram.... life after his return to Ayodhya from banishment In the volume containing Uttarāmacharitra also published the text of another Sanskrit pc called Vasantikaparinaya written by

Sattanopa yanuwara It treats of the marriage of Vasantika daughter of Sura sena a hunter The dramas in Kannada are in the form of Yakshaganas or high dramatic compositions of little or no literary merit suited to the tastes of the rustic population Three of them appear to have been written during the year They are all based on the episodes of the Mahabharata and the Ramayana

7 Fiction — Under the head of Fiction there were 21 publications The most important are Karnataka Kadambari Part I, Abhinava Kadambari, and Basappa Sastri's Damayanti Svayamvara The first named book is a Kannada version partly in prose and partly in verse of Banabhattas romance of the same name by Nagavarmma, a famous Jain scholar grammarian and poet, who lived in the 12th Century and who is best known for his work on Kannada prosody called Nagavarma chandas Karnataka Kadambari is edited by B Malla, Ba, Headmaster of the Government Kannada School, Mysore, who is well known for his scholarly knowledge of Old Kannada Abhinava Kadambari is a Sanskrit Champu work by a Pandit of the name of Yelandur Srikanta Sastri who reproduces the story of Banabhatta's work in his own language

Damayanti Swayamvara is a Champu work in Kannada composed by Basavappa Sastry a well known scholar of Mysore who has translated Kalidasa's Sakuntala into Kannada It treats of the marriage of Nala to Damayanti The work possesses great literary merit Under the same head have been brought the Kannada prose versions of the Sabha Parva, the Santi Parva and the Aranya Parva of the Mahabharata These are written in a learned style and afford interesting reading to the general public of Mysore The other works under this head are not of much importance

History —— Under the head of History is catalogued a school history of India in Kannada

Language —— There were 38 publications under the head of Language, all designed for educational purposes Two of them are English translations of the Kannada text prescribed for the Matriculation Examination of 1892 Twenty two of the publications are in Kannada Four of these are compilations of notes on text-books prescribed for the Matriculation and Lower Secondary Examinations of 1892, four are of the nature of glossaries of difficult words and phrases occurring in elementary Reading Books, and six of the books are Kannada First Books

Under the same head are nine reprints Amarakosha, a book of collections of select Sanskrit words, a Sanskrit Story intended for the use of beginners, and eight monthly issues of a periodical called Kavyamanjari in which are published ~~reprints of old and~~ for the first time old Kannada works both in Poetry and Prose The Editors propose to publish the text of many Kannada works of which they possess manuscripts

Law ——— Under the head of Law were published a reprint of the Kannada translation of the Indian Penal Code and a Kannada pamphlet on some points of the Hindu law of marriage

Medicine ——— Under Medicine were published a Kannada Manual of Vaccination by Mr. K N Upanya L M S and a Kannada work on medicine compiled from Sanskrit works by a pandit

Miscellaneous ——— Under the head of Miscellaneous have been grouped seven books on omens, divination, and other superstitions beliefs

Poetry —— Under the head of poetry besides reprints of Jaimini Bharata, a popular Kannada Epic, and the Megha Sandesa of Kalidasa, was published the Hamsa Sandesa a poem composed on the plan of Kalidasa's Megha Sandesa by Nagarmantra Venkachar The poem is annotated by the present Swamy

of the Parakal Matt at Mysore It is much inferior in literary merit to Kalidasa's poem The subject of the poem is a message sent by Rāma to Sita who was at Lanka, assuring her that he would rescue her from the hands of Rāvana soon A Kannada poem called Ambika Vijaya was published apparently for the first time It is composed by Ranganatha a Brahmin Pandit who is said to have lived about 300 years ago The subject is the fight of Ambika consort of Siva with the demon Raktabija sura and her victory over him The remaining works are not of much importance, being chiefly reprints of songs sung on occasions of marriage and other ceremonies or School text-books

Philosophy —— The publications under the head of Philosophy consist of a work on the Advaita doctrines and four books containing moral and religious maxims drawn from the Puranas and other sacred works

Religion ——— Of the publications coming under Religion 6 relate to Jainism 4 to Christianity and 57 to Hinduism including Vira Saivaism Looking at the contents of these we find that 25 of them are praises or descriptions of Vishnu Siva and other deities, or of Saints or Shrines, 2 reproduce portions of the Yajurveda & contain rules regulating the daily religious practices or observances of the different Sects of the Hindus or descriptions of rites to be performed in certain months of the year Parasara Madhaveya Dharma Sastra is worthy of mention It is a translation into Kannada of the Sacerdotal laws of Parasara and deals with the Prayaschitta Kanda or expiatory ceremonies A small book called Tatva Sara Khya Bala Bodhana is an attempt to impart to children elementary instruction in Hindu religion In the Viswakarma Kulabhushanam the Panchalas claim identity with the Brahmins A small pamphlet named Devaparadha Nivrodha denounces offences committed by trustees in regard to charitable and religious endowments chiefly of temples One book takes up the question of widow marriage and cites authorities against it The Veerasaiva Matha Prakasika of which 8 numbers were issued during the year expounds the doctrines of Veerasaivasm

Science —— Under Mathematical science one book gives questions in

Arithmetic in verse Under Natural science one book treats of the elements of geology in Kannada, two books treat of general Geography and two of the Geography of the Dharwar District All these books are designed for school use

Periodicals —— Eight issues of Karnataka Kavyamanjari Volume I Nos 1 to 8 already noticed under the head Language were published during the ye Ten issues of Veerasaivamatha Prakas Vol I Nos 7 to 12 and Vol II Nos 1 to 4 noticed under the head of Religion wer also published These were the only periodicals published in 1892
